6. The event consists of three rounds, each testing different aspects of programming and problem-solving.

Round 1: Quiz

1. The contest will consist of a mix of multiple choice questions.

2. Duration of the round will be 25 minutes.

3. The contest will be overseen by two judges whose decision in all matters is final.

4. Top 15 contestants will qualify for the next round. (Incase of draw between two people, timing will be considered)

Round 2: Debugging Round

1. It will consist of debugging questions.

2. Contestants are expected to debug and make the code run.

3. Top 5 contestants based on timing will go to the next round.

4. Round duration: 30 min.

Round 3: Programming Round

1. Individuals may submit only a single solution to each problem. Once submitted they may not be changed!

2. Individuals may not seek hints and/or ask for leads during the contest. They may, however, submit questions about procedure and/or clarification, in writing, to the Contest Committee who will ensure that all individuals receive the same information as deemed necessary.

Evaluation of Contestants' Programs

- Each program will be tested against a set of predefined test cases.

- Full points will be awarded for programs that pass all test cases.

- Programs that fail to meet the expected output will receive zero points.

- In case of a tie, partial points will be awarded based on the number of correct test cases passed and time of submission will be considered

- After all rounds, the final scores will be tallied, and the top performers will be declared the winners of the contest

Prizes:
